Problem Statement

"... large-scale farms and agricultural commodity traders markedly outperformed other corporate groups. In stark contrast, small-scale farms ... struggled to manage the uncertainty from price volatility"

Baines, J. - Review of International Political Economy - 2017

"... agricultural markets in developing countries are often not transparent to farmers, who face difficulties accessing reliable market information. In contrast, traders usually have better information on market prices and may use this asymmetry to their advantage..."

World Bank – Agricultural Sector Risk Assessment - 2016

The South African Context

"43% of the funding provided by the Land Bank was directed to 'mega farmers' ... white-owned farmers have been the largest recipients of the Land Bank's funding, receiving 71.6% of the total funding availed by the Land Bank in this period"

Competition Commission of South Africa – Fresh Produce Market Inquiry 2024

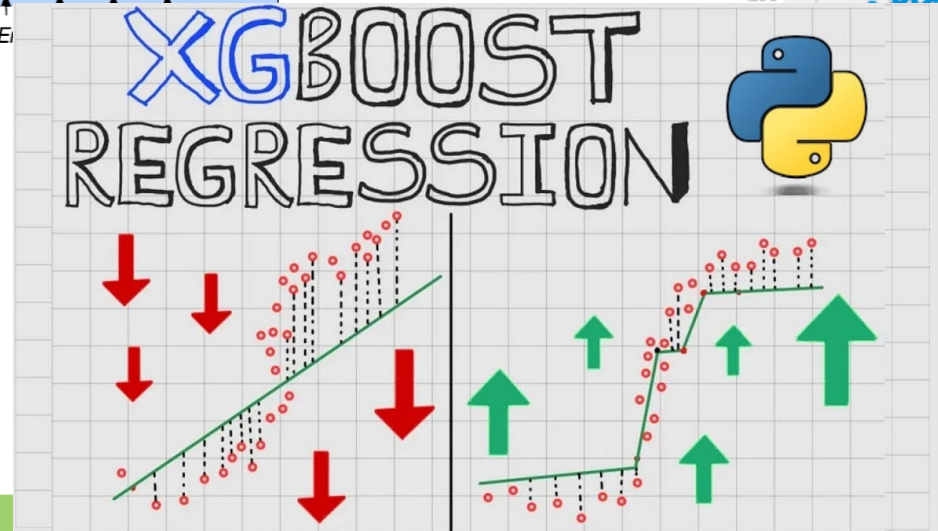

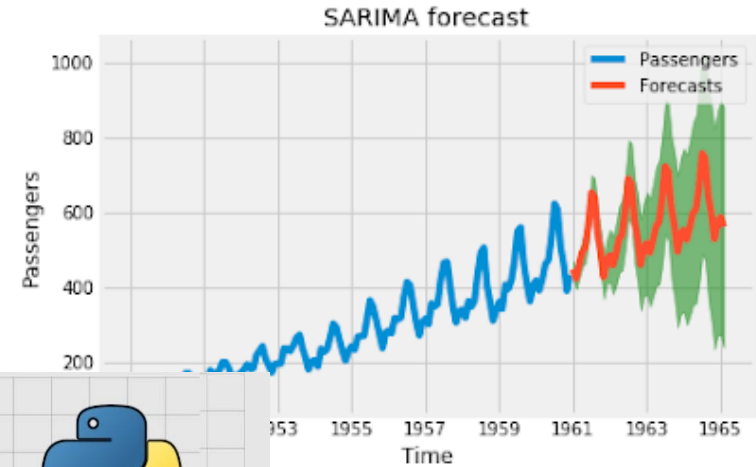

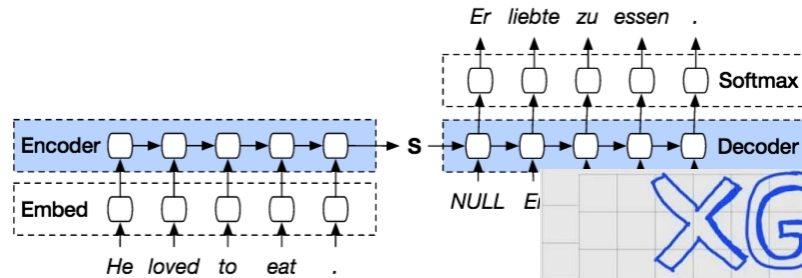

"Digital capital offers great opportunities while posing a threat to small agricultural firms. ... Instead, it has created a digital divide, the source of inequalities."
